

2017 Nevada
Teacher of the Year
Recognition Program

Nevada Department of Education is calling for nominations for the Nevada Teacher of the Year. The Nevada Teacher of the Year should:

- ✓ Possess exceptional skills and dedication to the profession
- ✓ Inspire students of all backgrounds and abilities to learn
- ✓ Have the respect and admiration of students, parents, and colleagues
- ✓ Actively participate in their community in addition to their school

Do you know teachers that possess the qualities listed above? Of course you do!!
Please encourage them to apply to become the 2016 Nevada Teacher of Year.

This is a self-nominating process. Potential candidates will find guidelines and the application at Teacher of the Year Program

Applications are due by Monday, September 19, 2016.

Nevada's Teacher of the Year is automatically entered into the selection process for the 2017 National Teacher of the Year.

All of the state representatives will have a once in a lifetime opportunity to meet in Washington, D.C. for a dinner and presentation by the President of the United States at a White House ceremony.

In addition to the trip to Washington D.C., there are other recognition events and opportunities to represent Nevada.
